

Villa Hermosa Honduras – Discover Paradise

Compliments of Villa Hermosa Honduras

Come Fall in Love With Honduras

Honduras is a republic in Central America that is known for its rich natural resources—including various minerals, coffee, tropical fruit, and sugar cane— as well as for its growing textiles industry. The country itself is full of untouched natural beauty, gorgeous weather, and a culture that dates back thousands of years. Come see for yourself why Honduras is fast becoming a popular tourist destination: whether you would rather go snorkeling at the surrounding reef, go zip-lining through the jungle canopy, relax in paradise on a sunny beach, or treat yourself at a world-class spa... Honduras has a lot to be discovered and a lot to offer.

Weather and Climate

Tropical Rains and Ocean Breezes

In most of Honduras the climate is tropical, with a dry season in winter and a rainy season in summer, while the northern parts of the country tend to see rains throughout the year. Because it is situated so close to the equator, temperatures reach an average of 86 degrees Fahrenheit in March and April! Fortunately, the breezes that blow down the mountains and in from the Caribbean Sea help keep things feeling nice and comfortable.

What To Pack For Your Trip

If you will be going to Tegucigalpa and the tierras templadas, light clothing with a sweatshirt or sweater and a jacket for the evening is weather-appropriate all year long, but make sure to pack a raincoat or umbrella from May to October. If you are on the plains and coasts, bring lightweight clothes & a sweater for the evening from December to March; from May to October the weather will be warmer, so tropics-friendly clothing, plus a light sweatshirt and a light raincoat for thunderstorms. For the reef, be sure to bring equipment for snorkeling, water shoes or rubber soled shoes. On high mountains, pack warm clothes, a jacket, and hiking boots.

Activities for the Adventurous

No matter which part of Honduras you travel to, there are plenty of outdoor activities for the whole family to enjoy- from diving, to hiking, to zip-lining through the jungle canopy!

Cayos Cochinos

Some of the most beautiful islands in the world are right here in Cayos Cochinos (directly translated means the ‘Hog Islands’). They are made up of two main islands (Cayo Menor and Cayo Mayor) and 13 small privately owned coral cays. Because Cayos Cochinos is located just 17 km’s northeast of the port of La Ceiba, the islands can be reached by taking a 45-minute boat ride from the port at Sambo Creek, or you could charter a boat from Roatan. Activities in Cayos Cochinos include hiking to the lighthouse on Cayos Grande for a superb panoramic view, scuba diving, snorkeling, swimming, or lounging on the beach. Travelers interested in local culture will enjoy visiting one of the smaller islands’ Garifuna fishing villages.

Activities for the Adventurous

Montaña de Santa Bárbara National Park

Montaña de Santa Barbara is the largest limestone massif in Central America. The area is riddled with caves, underground rivers and bubbling springs, and a mysterious waterfall that seemingly comes from nowhere and disappears into the cliff below! There are also several unmarked hiking trails that range in difficulty from intermediate to challenging. Visitors can take a guided trip through the cloud forest, where there is a strong chance of finding the elusive “Resplendent Quetzal,” a bird revered by the Maya and so beautiful that Guatemala named its currency after it! It takes most hikers two to three days to hit the summit, depending on where they enter the park. Along the way, hikers have the opportunity to see almost four dozen orchid varieties, over 400 bird species (including relatively high chances of sighting quetzals) and other animals such as spider monkeys, anteaters and, if you’re incredibly lucky, jaguars.

Activities for the Adventurous

Bay Islands Underwater Museum

A museum like no other, Bay Islands Underwater Museum takes visitors on a journey beneath the warm waters of Roatán in the Caribbean Sea. The museum is filled with tropical wildlife and historical artifacts, and tells a story of the local marine life and the history of the Garifunas, the Mayans, and the Spanish settlers.

Just beneath the surface, you will be able to see a Spanish galleon, canoes, statues, and even a Mayan cemetery. In addition to the historic pieces, visitors will come face to face with an array of animals such as stingrays, turtles, and a whole bunch of tropical fish.

Activities for the Adventurous

Gumbalimba National Park

Found in the Bay Islands, Gumbalimba Park is a 20-acre beachfront park with plenty of fun activities. Visitors can rent a clear bottom canoe to catch a glimpse of those beautiful underwater views, or get a new perspective by catching a zip-line through the tree tops! There is an animal preserve with free-flying exotic birds, friendly monkeys, and plenty of other animals. The park's botanical gardens display a wide range of plants and tree species that are native to Honduras, broken up by picturesque waterfalls.

If you are visiting the parks with children in tow, don't worry- Gumbalimba Park is fun for children of all ages! Relax in one of their crystal-clear swimming pools, where you can order lunch and plan your next activity.

Activities for the Adventurous

Pico Bonito National Park

Established in 1987, Pico Bonito National Park has nearly 220 square miles of breathtakingly beautiful landscapes. The variations in altitude allow the park to be a home to many animals and plants. Found within the Cordillera Nombre de Dios mountain range, the park is a part of the Mesoamerican Biological Corridor. Pico Bonito has many programs in place to protect the forest, which allow visitors to experience the natural beauty and take part in popular activities such as hiking, white-water rafting, kayaking, and bird watching.

Historical and Religious Sites

Talgua Caves- "The Cave of the Glowing Skulls"

Talgua Cave, known also as the 'Cave of the Glowing Skulls', is a cave located in the Olancho Valley, which is situated in Catacamas, a municipality in northeastern Honduras. The cave's name may be said to be a misnomer, as the skulls do not actually glow on their own. Instead, the piles of human bones on the surface of the cave were coated over the centuries by a layer of calcium crystals. These crystals reflect light, thus giving the bones a glowing appearance. The mysterious skulls are all that's left of a non-Mayan burial site dating back to 1400 BC, and attract visitors from around the world.

Historical and Religious Sites

Copán

Located in the Rio Copan Valley of western Honduras, the ancient city of Copan was the capital of a major Mayan kingdom from the 5th to 9th centuries AD. At the peak of its power the kingdom had a population of at least 20,000. Copan was known for its advancements in arts and astronomy and is famous for its beautiful decorated buildings and sculptures.

The site comprises some 250 acres, and consists of stone temples, two large pyramids, several stairways and plazas, and a court for playing the ball game tlachtli. Most of these structures centre on a raised platform (now called the Acropolis) that was apparently the architectural centre of the ancient city. Copán is particularly noted for the friezes on some of its other buildings and the portrait sculptures on its many stelae. The Hieroglyphic Stairway, which leads to one of the temples, is beautifully carved with some 1,260 hieroglyphic symbols on the risers of its 63 remaining steps. There is evidence that astronomers in Copán calculated the most accurate solar calendar produced by the Maya up to that time.

Historical and Religious Sites

Fortress of San Fernando de Omoa

San Fernando Fortress is one of the most famous icons in Honduras and the largest Spanish fort in Central America. Located in Omoa on the north shore, this massive stone structure has seen the country through nearly three centuries of history. The fortress was originally built to protect the coast from pirates, who attacked silver-carrying ships bound for Spain. By the time the fortress was completed, however, these pirates were no longer a threat.

Explore the fort and its sprawling grounds, and discover more about the history of the fortress and the city of Omoa at the on-site museum. San Fernando Fortress is open every day.

Historical and Religious Sites

El Cristo de Picacho Statue

Standing guard over the city, this monumental statue of Christ has been a landmark since it was erected in 1997. It is visible from many places throughout the city, where visitors have a beautiful view of the valley. It all sits in the Parque de las Naciones Unidas, a great place to have a picnic and take some scenic pictures.

Historical and Religious Sites

Our Lady of Suyapa Statue

As you know, Latin America is eminently Catholic, as a result of three centuries of colonial rule from Spain and Portugal. Often, the Catholic religion has resulted in a unique blend of Catholic and local beliefs. The fact is that every town and city in Latin America has a patron saint. In some cases, a country can have a patron saint. Our Lady of Suyapa is the patron Saint of Honduras.

Her shrine, the Basilica of Suyapa is in the outskirts of Tegucigalpa. The Catholic Church celebrates her day on the 3rd of February. This is a holiday in Tegucigalpa and Comayaguela. If you happen to be in those cities, the banks and government offices will be closed on that day.

Pilgrims from around the country arrive in Tegucigalpa to pay their respects to our Lady of Suyapa. To them, She is a mother, who will intercede on our behalf with Jesus to get miracles and special favors. A visit to Our Lady of Suyapa in Tegucigalpa is one of the highlights to your visit to Honduras. There you will feel the religious fervor of Honduran Catholics. You will also have a chance to see the local flower and food market close to the Church of Our Lady of Suyapa.

Cities to Visit

Zoo Joya Grande

If you want to see some of the wild animal species that live in Central America, spend a day at the Zoo Joya Grande, which is situated on 200+ acres of rolling hills and green grassy areas with mountains in the distance. At first glance, there is no question that there is more to the park than just a zoo. Upon entry, visitors can see a Go-Kart track to the right, large cabins to the left up a grassy hill, a large swimming pool in the distance, and signs for spelunking, ziplining, and fishing. Bring your family for a fun-filled day trip.

Cities to Visit

Sambo Creek

Sambo Creek is a traditional Garífuna village 15 kilometres (9 mi) east of La Ceiba on the Caribbean Sea north coast of Honduras. They have the largest Garifuna population in Honduras and are considered to be a true Garifuna town. An annual fair is held in June, but visitors to the town can experience traditional punta dances every Sunday by the beach.

Sambo Creek offers several different activities, depending on what kind of fun you are interested in. Visitors can take the zip-line tour (one of the cables is almost a mile long!) or visit the tropical hot springs. They are within a crystal clear creek that cascades down the mountain. As the water falls, it forms small natural pools where you can relax. A relaxing massage and a mud bath finish off the experience for a great day!

Cities to Visit

La Ceiba

La Ceiba is the ecotourism capital of Honduras. Located on the Caribbean coast of Honduras, it is also the gateway to the Bay Islands of Honduras, since the ferry service and airlines use this city as a hub to connect towards the islands. Four national parks are within easy access from La Ceiba: Pico Bonito and Nombre de Dios National Parks, as well as the Cuero y Salado Wildlife Refuge and the Cayos Cochinos Marine Monument. La Ceiba is an ethnic melting pot, with Garifunas, Bay Islanders, Miskito natives, and an important expatriate community living here. La Ceiba is famous for the Cangrejal River and its outstanding white water rafting and kayaking. Hot springs are abundant along the north coast of Honduras, and La Ceiba is no exception with lovely natural hot water springs along the Nombre De Dios National Park. The largest selection of Ecolodge type facilities in Honduras are located around La Ceiba, with many on the Cangrejal River.

Local Cuisine

Roatán

Located near the Mesoamerican Barrier Reef, the largest barrier reef in the Caribbean Sea (second largest worldwide after Australia's Great Barrier Reef), Roatán has become an important cruise ship, scuba diving and eco-tourism destination in Honduras. The island of Roatán is located within 40 miles of La Ceiba.

The entire 33-mile island is surrounded by a shallow reef, with several diving spots offering a spectacular view of thousands of marine creatures for both experienced and novice divers. If you are not a diver, it is easy to get a few lessons and get certified with some of the best instructors who flock to teach in this area. Visitors can also snorkel, catch a zip-line, or order some of the delicious local seafood in town.

Local Cuisine

Honduran cuisine is a cocktail of multiple ancient cultures like Maya, Lenca, and Garifuna. Besides, African and Caribbean influences, Spanish invasion also played an important part in making the local cuisine a favorite around the world. Here are some examples of traditional Honduran cuisine that are a must-try for any visitor.

Carne Asada

What is it: Grilled beef that has been marinated with lemon, vinegar, sugar, black pepper, and cumin seed.

What does it taste like: Always served hot, the charred flavor is complemented by the tanginess of lemon. Frequently enjoyed by local people, it is mostly served with toasted tortillas.

Local Cuisine

Baleadas

What is it: Traditional flour tortilla with a sumptuous filling of cheese, avocados, beans, and sometimes with scrambled eggs and ground beef.

What does it taste like: With an abundance of cream and cheese, what can go wrong? Nothing! This is an ideal item to be used for breakfast or as a main dish. Variations like baleada mixta, baleada sencillas are worth a try too.

Local Cuisine

Enchiladas

What is it: Fried corn tortilla with a topping of cooked ground beef, onions, bell pepper, and garlic with some boiled eggs.

What does it taste like: Tempting enough to make you go crazy at the first sight, the mixed flavors of eggs and chicken along with Worcestershire and tomato sauce offer a divine pleasure to your taste buds.

Local Cuisine

Pastelitos de Carne

What is it: Ground beef cooked with wine, tomato, onion, sugar, and raisin, before being stuffed into the pastry.

What does it taste like: The golden brown preparation is soft yet crunchy with a delicate taste of the filling. A very common snack item that tastes best if served with tomato sauce and shredded cabbages.

Local Cuisine

Honduran Taco

What is it: Taco with a stuffing of cooked meat along with cabbages, using tortillas as the base.

What does it taste like: Most yummy item you can ever taste! With ample of cheese and salsa sprinkled on the tacos, it is just as delicious as you can imagine.

Local Cuisine

Horchata- A Famous Honduran Drink

What is it: A simple blend of rice, water, cinnamon, sugar, vanilla and milk added afterward.

What does it taste like: Although it has multiple namesakes, the Honduran horchata has a distinct flavor. In the southern province of Honduras, this drink is made using jicaro seed instead of rice. For a rich taste, cashew nuts, cocoa peanuts, and almonds are used.

Local Cuisine

Machuca- A Traditional Garifuna Dish

What is it: Mashed boiled plantains are cooked with a jalapeño and garlic paste.

What does it taste like: With a generous amount of salt sprinkled while serving, this is a Honduran dish you must have a taste of at least once.

Local Cuisine

Pupusa

What is it: A thick tortilla that is made of grilled pork, beans, and cheese.

What does it taste like: Although it is much similar to the traditional tortilla, there are lots of variations regarding the filling. The crispy, soft and smooth texture of pupusas will make your experience a fabulous one. Try out pupusas de queso, pupusas de frijoles refritos that are prepared with quesillo and beans respectively along with cheese and mozzarella.

Local Cuisine

Sopa de Frijoles

What is it: A healthy and sumptuous soup of black bean along with coriander, paprika, and tomatoes.

What does it taste like: You will be running out of adjectives to describe this soup once you have the sip. You can try this soup with some corn tortilla strips, bell peppers and some dollops of sour cream.

Local Cuisine

Sopa de Caracol

What is it: An exotic soup preparation with vegetables, corn and some sea foods like lobster.

What does it taste like: Hotter the better! You can count on this superb soup whenever you are dubious about which dish is to try out in Honduras.

Local Cuisine

Fried Yojoa Fish

What is it: A deep fried fish, marinated with spices and served with pickled onions and lemon slices.

What does it taste like: It's crunchy, tangy and out of the world. An original dish of the Yojoa province, the savory taste will enthrall your taste buds just like the way you want.

Local Cuisine

Tamale or Nacatamale

What is it: A corncake with a filling of onion, potatoes, rice, and tomatoes, steamed inside a banana wrapper.

What does it taste like: Once you open the banana wrap, it's just a surprise that is waiting for you. Presently there are lots of improvisation regarding the fillings and wrapping, and you can check out them all in any authentic Honduran restaurants.

Local Cuisine

Ceviche de Corvina

What is it: White fish fillet refrigerated overnight along with an assortment of orange juice, red bell paper, coconut milk and red onion.

What does it taste like: You are just one bite away from falling in love with this exquisite item. It is just not a dish, it's an experience to enjoy the flavorsome fish preparation.

Local Cuisine

Anafres- an Appetizer

What is it: A fried beans dish commonly using the clay pot known as “Anafre”.

What does it taste like: This is a treat to have especially with some tortilla chips and cheese. If you use jalapeño and chorizo, then it’s a divine taste waiting for you.

Local Cuisine

Arroz con Leche (Rice Pudding)

What is it: Justifying the name, this pudding is served with cinnamon and fresh berries on the top.

What does it taste like: Can be consumed in both hot and cold form, people with an inclination towards sugariness can accentuate the sweetness of this pudding by adding condensed milk or sugar.

Local Cuisine

Tres Leches Cake

What is it: A regular cake using egg, milk and other essential items and garnished with a cherry on the top.

What does it taste like: Sweet and delightful in every bite, the sweetness of this cake can further be heightened if a coconut is used during the preparation.

Local Cuisine

Arroz con Pollo

What is it: Cooked chicken along with rice, tomatoes, and other spices.

What does it taste like: The colorful dish is a perfect amalgamation of delicious ingredients you can ever think of. For a supreme taste, some avocado slices, fresh salads, and fried banana alongside are fine choices.

Local Cuisine

Licuados

What is it: A perfect mingling of various kinds of frozen fruits along with sweetening agents like honey and milk.

What does it taste like: Easy to get in every restaurant and easy to make as well, this drink is a common item to observe in every traditional occasion.

Local Cuisine

Honduran Chicken Skewer

What is it: Broiled boneless chicken usually served with sauces.

What does it taste like: The crispy flavor of the chicken is perfectly accompanied with cilantro leaves and garlic. If you are a barbecue lover, then this dish is the one you should be looking for.

Local Cuisine

Plato Tipico

What is it: A combined meal as grilled pork and beef are served with cooked rice, fried plantains and stewed beans with traditional chismol.

What does it taste like: A wholesome platter to fill your heart with pleasure as the vegetables and meat balance each other's taste. This is a very common dish, often served on national holidays.

Local Cuisine

Tapado de Pascado

What is it: A soup using white fish steak along with coconut milk, cilantro, yucca, green plantain and sweet potatoes.

What does it taste like: It is one of their favorite seafood recipes featuring lots of vegetables and fish in perfect synchronization. Also, this nutritious soup tastes better if consumed with sauces.

Festivals and Celebrations

Ensalada de Palmito

What is it: A salad made of ingredients like hearts of palm, avocado, garlic, tomato and red onion.

What does it taste like: The scrumptious salad is as fresh as it can be. Either dinner or lunch, this salad is a must if you have the desire of knowing the cuisine.

Festivals and Celebrations

Honduras offers year-round celebrations that are large and lively, and often include street parades and performances. The biggest event in the country loved by all Hondurans is the annual carnival held in La Ceiba, but there are plenty of celebrations hosted throughout the year.

Santa de Semana

Literally translating to “Easter Week,” this festival is a multi-day celebration in March or April every year depending on the Christian calendar. The best place to witness it is undoubtedly in the Honduran mountain town of Santa Rose de Copan, which is close to the Mayan Copan ruins. Here there are six separate parades reenacting biblical events from the Easter story, and the effort and detail is a true spectacle.

Festivals and Celebrations

Punta Gorda Festival

A uniquely Honduran festival celebrating the Garifuna community, Punta Gorda takes place annually on April 12. It commemorates the day in which 4,000 Garifuna people were placed on the island of Roatan, thus commencing their settlement of the islands and Caribbean coast. Punta Gorda has the biggest celebration, with many gathering here to take part in the festivities.

Feria de San Isidro

At the end of every May the town of La Ceiba hosts the San Isidro Fair, the country's largest festival, according to Destination 360. Festival-goers are treated to a variety of cultural activities, people in festive costumes, street vendors selling everything from shoes to cheese, and live Latin music and dancing. The event is also highlighted by vibrant float parades that showcase Honduras' lively culture, and the "Gran Carnaval de La Amistad," the final fair's final celebration. The extensive parade traverses down the town's main boulevard, Avenue San Isidro.

Modern Amenities and Comforts

Feria Juniana

The Feria Juniana, or June Fair, also gives Honduras tourists a reason to visit. The month-long annual festival held in San Pedro Sula features traditional Honduran food and beverages, carnival rides and festive fireworks displays, and revolves around the city's patron saint. The event offers several colorful, cultural parades from start to finish, but the largest one is the parade down the city's Avenida Circunvalacion, which caps off the celebration. Parade watchers can enjoy the restaurants and entertainment venues that dot the avenue before and after the festivities.

FERIA JUNIANA 2017

Modern Amenities and Comforts

Healthcare in Honduras Meets High Standards and is Very Affordable

Many Honduran physicians were trained in the United States, so they speak English and keep up-to-date practices. A visit to the doctor costs between US$5 and $15, and a private hospital room costs $30 to $40 a day. You can have complex surgery performed for as little as $1,000.

There are good medical facilities in or near the communities where expatriates are likely to settle. The CEMESA facility in San Pedro Sula and the Honduras Medical Center in Tegucigalpa are both top quality medical centers. But outside of these populated areas, medical care is generally only adequate for minor illnesses and injuries.

A new state-of-the-art medical facility is currently being built on the island of Roatan.

Modern Amenities and Comforts

Public Education

Education in Honduras is free to the public. The system begins in pre-school, continues in elementary school (1st-9th grade), secondary school (10th or 12th grade), then the university years (licentiate, master and doctorate). The National Autonomous University of Honduras (Universidad Nacional Autónoma de Honduras) is the national public university of Honduras. It was founded in 1847 and has many campuses throughout the country.

The Villa Hermosa Honduras Community

Shopping

The supermarket revolution, or the rise of national chains selling food with machine-like predictability, has made it to Honduras. Visitors and residents alike will find comfort knowing that some large grocery chains (such as Wal-Mart and Maxi Despensa) are popping up throughout the country.

Another modern development has been the number of shopping malls that are popping up all throughout the county in many of the bigger cities, such as Roatan, Tegucigalpa, San Pedro Sulo, and Coxen Hole. Shoppers can stroll leisurely in the air-conditioned stores and can purchase clothing, jewelry, souvenirs, and more in big-name stores

ESPAÑOLA B

Construction area: 3,100 sqft (288 sq meters)

Price varies based on upgrades

- Three bedrooms
- Two bathrooms
- Kitchen
- Living room
- Dining area
- Patio
- Laundry Area
- All bedrooms have closet.
- The master suite offers a private bathroom and closet.
- A garden in front of the house.
- Oversized lot
- Pool

ESPAÑOLA A

Construction area: 2100 sqft (195 sq meters)

$199,000 USD Fully Furnished

- Three bedrooms
- Two bathrooms
- Kitchen
- Living room
- Dining area
- Patio
- Laundry Area
- All bedrooms have closet.
- The master suite offers a private bathroom and closet.
- A garden in front of the house.

FLORIDA

Construction area: 1,680 sqf (156 sq meters)

$160,000 USD Fully Furnished

- Three bedrooms
- Two bathrooms
- Kitchen
- Living room
- Dining area
- Patio
- Laundry Area
- All bedrooms have closet.
- The master suite offers a private bathroom and closet.
- A garden in front of the house.

MAYAN

Construction area: 1,200 sqft (111 sq meters)

$120,000 USD Fully Furnished

- Three bedrooms
- Two bathrooms
- Kitchen
- Living room
- Dining area
- Patio
- Laundry Area
- All bedrooms have closet.
- The master suite offers a private bathroom and closet.
- A garden in front of the house.

Local Amenities

- Security in place- 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year
- Gated Community
- Beach area with private deeded oceanfront access
- Underground utilities
- 135,000 gallon swimming pool
- Tennis courts
- Club House with auditorium bar and restaurant
- Stables for horse lovers
- 50 miles of scenic trails
- Picnic area
- Basketball courts
- Lagoon for fishing

Local Amenities

Within 8 miles from the community you will find a hot geothermal spring, mountain trails, white water rafting up to category 5, canopy tours, deep sea fishing, hunting and diving plus much, much more! Our beautiful community, Villa Hermosa is 15 miles east of the growing city of La Ceiba on the north coast of Honduras in Central America. Located on the Caribbean sea La Ceiba has a population of over 200,000 people and has all the modern conveniences for your convenience.

- Hospital visits are averaging about 1/10 of the prices in the USA, and staffed by doctors who studied medicine in the United States.
- Numerous full service clinics are available AND open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
- Modern supermarkets compete against each other to bring you great economical prices on groceries.
- Shopping centers and malls.
- Transportation that rivals modern North American cities.
- International airport.
- Universities, both private and public.
- Elementary and secondary schools are available both public and private. Most private schools are bilingual.
- Religious organizations of all types and denominations, with Catholic being the local predominance.
- World class golf courses.

Travel Assistance

Hotel Booking If you are flying in and would like to stay at a hotel, let us know.

Assistance We can offer you discounted rates.

Airport Pickup When you land in Honduras we will make sure that you're taken care of. Just send us an email with details of your arrival and we will pick you up.

Travel Guides When you're ready to discover all that Honduras has to offer we'll provide guides to help you get around.

Property Management After you purchase a home in Villa Hermosa we continue to give on-going support. We take care of your property when you're away, so you don't have to worry.

Fly & Buy Visit our resort, tour the area, dine at our local restaurants, snorkel or dive on one of the worlds most beautiful reefs. When you purchase a home at Villa Hermosa we will reimburse up to $2000.00 of your travel expenses (including airfare and hotel accommodations).

Contact us TODAY!

If you are ready to start living the life you deserve, contact us TODAY for more free information on how you can become our newest owner at Villa Hermosa Honduras- No obligation.

United States: (800) 693-6360

email: Sales@VillaHermosaHonduras.com

www.VillaHermosaHonduras.com/contact-us-2/

